WEST HOLDS BIG EDGE

Since divisional play started in 1969 the N. L. Western Division teams hold a commanding 70 game edge in games against Eastern Division clubs. Only twice, in 1971 and 1972, has the Eastern Division won out over the West. And the margin has been widest in the past two years when Western clubs have won 30 more games in the inter-division rivalry. The year-by-year breakdown:

THE MANAGER

WESLEY NOREEN WESTRUM

Bats R, Throws R. Born November 28, 1922, in Clearbrook, Minnesota. Height 5-11, Weight 200. Married; two daughters. Lives in Phoenix, Arizona.

Wes was named Manager of the Giants on June 28, 1974, taking over for Charlie Fox . . . the club was in fifth place, and although the situation in the standings didn't improve much, the progress of the pitching staff was marked and youngsters like John D'Acquisto, Mike Caldwell and Jim Barr advanced enough to give promise as the first three starters for 1975 . . . now 52 years old, Westrum has had vast experience in the development and handling of quality pitchers starting with his days as a topflight defensive catcher in the National League from 1947 to 1957 with the New York Giants . . . he enjoyed his best seasons in the mid-1950s when the Giants were a strong club and won pennants (1951 and 1954) and a World Championship . . . Wes was an integral part of the 1951 Miracle Giants that won 37 of the last 44 games to overtake the Dodgers and beat them in the playoff on Bobby Thomson's historic home run . . . he anchored the 1954 team that swept Cleveland in four straight games, hitting .273 in that World Series . . . in 1950 Wes set the all-time National League fielding percentage record (.999) for catchers with one error in 680 total chances and led the league by participating in 21 double plays . . . named to the N. L. All Star team in 1952 and 1953 . . . following his playing days Wes became a coach for the San Francisco Giants from 1958 through 1963 under Bill Rigney, Tom Sheehan and Alvin Dark . . . in 1964 Wes went to the New York Mets as coach and wound up succeeding the legendary Casey Stengel as Manager of the Mets on July 25, 1965 . . . some of Casey's knack for malapropisms rubbed off on him . . . left the Mets on September 21, 1967, with a record of 142-237 after having helped in the development of youngsters Tom Seaver, Jerry Koosman, Jon Matlack and Tug McGraw just before they carried the Mets to 1969 World Championship . . . a similar situation can be seen on the current Giants—good, young talent and a youthful pitching staff with quality evident that needs to be molded into a contender . . . under Westrum the Giants were 38-48 last year . . . a native of Minnesota, Westrum had his baseball career interrupted by service in the U. S. Army's Airborne Division as a paratrooper in World War II from 1943-45 . . . he and his wife, Jo, have two daughters, Barbara and Joann, and make their home in Phoenix.

THE COACHES

JOHN JOSEPH AMALFITANO

Bats R, Throws R. Pedro, California. Height 5-11, Weight 170. Single. Lives in San Francisco..

Since signing a bonus contract with the New York Giants in 1954 Joe has spent 20 years in baseball, leaving the Giant organization three different times, but he's always returned to the place he considers home . . . the late Walter (Dutch) Ruether and Evo Pusich signed Joey out of St. Anthony High School in Long Beach, California, and he was on a World Championship team in his first pro season . . . seeing little action because the bonus rule prevented his going to the minor leagues for two seasons, Joe learned the game at various stops the next four years, returning to the majors with San Francisco in 1960 . . . the expansion draft for the 1962 season saw Joe picked as Houston's first choice for $125,000 . . . traded back to San Francisco for southpaw Dick LeMay and outfielder Manny Mota at the end of that season . . . then went to the Chicago Cubs' organization where he joined Leo Durocher, who was his first manager, and when he finished his playing career Leo made him a coach . . . was the Cubs' first base coach through 1971 before rejoining the Giants . . . has served under Charlie Fox and Wes Westrum as first base coach, and this season Joe has been assigned the third base coaching duties for 1975 . . . Joe attended Loyola University of Los Angeles for three years, finally received his B. A. degree in Business Administration from the University of Southern California . . . in the off season Joe lives in San Francisco, doing some public relations work for the Giants and for Heublein, Inc.

ANDREW GILBERT

Bats R, Throws R. Born July 18, 1914, in Bradenville, Pa. Height 6-1, Weight 220. Married; one daughter. Lives in Latrobe, Pa.

Andy enters his fourth season on the San Francisco coaching staff and will assume new duties as manager Wes Westrum's first lieutenant on the bench in plotting strategy as the game progresses . . . a great minor league career, first as a fast, power-hitting first baseman and outfielder in the Boston Red Sox organization, later as a manager for 22 seasons in the Giant system during which he developed most of the prospects who reached the major leagues including former and present stars Juan Marichal, Matty Alou, Jim Hart, Ron Bryant, Jim Barr, Dave Kingman, Dave Rader and Chris Speier . . . Andy's major league career was hamstrung by service in the U. S. Army Air Corps from 1943 to 1946 and then by a severe shoulder injury . . . as a player Andy was the Cotton State League All Star centerfielder in 1939 and won the batting title of the Ohio-Indiana League in 1951 . . . a player-manager for six seasons, he was an All Star selection in that capacity in 1950 and 1951 . . . named the Western Association All Star first baseman in 1952 . . . Manager of the Year at Springfield of the Eastern League in 1961 and again at Amarillo of the Texas League ten years later just prior to joining San Francisco as coach in 1972.

QUALIFICATIONS and REGULATIONS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A BATTING CHAMPION: highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A PITCHING CHAMPION: lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

PLAYER LIMITS: 40 until Opening Day when the roster must be reduced to 25 players until September 1, when it again becomes 40.

DETERMINING BATTING AVERAGE: divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING EARNED RUN AVERAGE: multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take that number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

DETERMINING MAGIC NUMBER: determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

THE 1975 SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS

GARY WAYNE ALEXANDER

CATCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born March 27, 1953, in Los Angeles, California. Height 6-2, Weight 200. Single. Lives in Los Angeles.

A non-roster player who was invited to camp last spring to help with the catching duties, Gary had an outstanding season to earn the league's Most Valuable Player award at Fresno and is in a spot to battle for a varsity job . . . he led the California League in home runs and finished second to teammate Jack Clark's 117 RBIs although missing the last month of the season with an injury to his left knee . . . surgery in August repaired the damage and Gary played briefly in the Arizona Instructional League to show he is on the way to recovery . . . Gary was the All Star Team catcher in the California League . . . signed by scout George Genovese . . . his coach at Los Angeles Harbor Junior College didn't think he could play professional baseball . . . a graduate of Locke High School in Los Angeles where he also played football . . . named to the Midwest League All Star Team in 1973 . . . has a good strong arm, but needs to work on getting his throw away quicker . . . the bat is his biggest asset, it's quick and powerful.

JAMES LELAND BARR

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born February 10, 1948, in Lynwood, California. Height 6-3, Weight 205. Married; one daughter. Lives in San Mateo, California.

Although starting the season as a long relief man, Jim emerged from the 1974 season as the club's pitching leader . . . he goes into 175 as the number one starter, a spot he earned by leading Giant pitchers in wins, complete games, innings, shutouts (5) and ERA . . . Jim's 2.74 ERA was seventh best in the National League and he was the top control pitcher in the league, averaging only 1.76 walks per nine innings . . . on June 13th Jim became a regular rotation starter and responded with a 1-0 six-hitter over the Cubs . . . from that date to the end of the year he was 11-6 with an ERA of 2.52 in 175 innings . . . using an economy of pitches and working quickly Barr has earned a reputation for completing games in less than two hours and about 100 pitches . . . on July 21st he dispatched the Expos in 1:41, the shortest game of the year, on 98 pitches in the first game of a double whitewash of Montreal . . . that was the fourth double shutout by the Giants in San Francisco history . . . Jim's second start of the year was also a shutout, 3-0 over St. Louis, giving him back-to-back shutouts, first such achievement by a Giant since Barr did it on August 23-29, 1972, while also retiring 41 consecutive batters for a major league record . . . Jim's best efforts came against the Cubs (2-1) with the pair of shutouts and only one ER in 25 innings, and against the Braves (3-1) with 3 CG in six starts . . . of his nine losses three were by a run and three other times the Giants were blanked . . . of the 17 homers he allowed 15 were hit with none on base, a tribute to his control . . . and Jim hit his first major league homer, off Andy Messersmith in Dodger Stadium on September 2nd in a 5-3 win . . . Barr was the Giants' number two pick in the June, 1970, Special Phase draft behind teammate Dave Kingman . . . the pair had led the University of Southern California to the NCAA title that spring . . . scout George Genovese signed him . . . after one full season of professional experience Jim was called up to San Francisco on July 30, 1971, and he's been getting better each year . . . Jim and wife Susie had their first child, Emmy, last August.

THOMAS WILLIAM BRADLEY

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born March 16, 1947, in Asheville, N. C. Height 6-3, Weight 185. Married. Lives in Walnut Creek, California.

The 1974 season was a terrible disappointment for Tom, one he'd rather forget . . . he's hoping to show the Giants what kind of pitcher he really is this time around . . . a hard throwing pitcher, with an excellent curve, Tom has always been a workhorse and a strikeout collector . . . acquired on November 29, 1972, from the Chicago White Sox for outfielder Ken Henderson and pitcher Steve Stone . . . Tom was the Giants' Opening Day pitcher last season, beating Houston, 5-1, giving up seven hits in 8.1 IP . . . a good control pitcher, but suffers from the home run ball . . . shoulder problems put him out of action for long periods in mid-season . . . in his final start of the year he looked strong again with 7-2 win over the Padres at Candlestick Park, allowing four hits in six innings . . . signed with the California Angels and got to the majors at the end of his first season . . . pitched for the San Jose Bees that summer after a military camp stint and hurled a one-hitter against the Fresno Giants . . . a graduate of Falls Church High School where he was a basketball, baseball and cross country performer . . . named to the All-Metropolitan Washington D. C. and All Virginia prep baseball all star team in his senior year . . . continued his education and baseball career at the University of Maryland where he earned his B. A. degree in Education with a major in Latin . . . in 1967 and 1968 he was named to the Atlantic Coast Conference first team . . . a product of northern Virginia's Little League, Babe Ruth League and American Legion baseball programs . . . while with the White Sox he fanned more than 200 batters in consecutive seasons for only the third time in that club's history . . . Tom was married during the off season.

RONALD RAYMOND BRYANT

PITCHER. Bats R & L, Throws L. Born November 12, 1947, in Redlands, California. Height 6-0, Weight 195. Married, two children. Lives in Scottsdale, Ariz.

If Ron's 1973 season was as good as everyone thought, then 1974 was as bad as it could be . . . he never recovered from a pool slide accident in mid-March and the three weeks he was out of action put him too far behind in conditioning . . . made his first start on April 26 against Tom Seaver and the Mets, but poor defensive play hurt him and set the tone for his entire year . . . when Ron pitched well he got no support, and he seemed to lose confidence . . . got two wins early with good efforts against the Braves and Phillies, then had two and a half months without a win, losing eight straight decisions, until he came up with a good outing to beat the Pirates in Three Rivers Stadium on August 19th . . . between July 8 and that date he was out of rotation and working strictly in relief . . . as a reliever he pitched effectively with a 2.77 ERA in 18 appearances . . . in preparation for a strong comeback attempt Ron has moved his residence to Scottsdale, Arizona, and trimmed off a lot of weight . . . hopefully with a full spring training period and renewed determination to show his 1973 form Ron will return to winning ways . . . a year ago he was enjoying the notoriety of the National League's only 20-game winner . . . named the Sporting News Pitcher of the Year for his 24 victories, most by a Giant southpaw since Carl Hubbell racked up 26 in 1936 . . . Ron signed with scout Eddie Montague after a super career at Davis (Calif.) High School in 1965 and made his first major league appearance two years later . . . he's been a Giant regular the past five seasons and at age 27 he has his prime years ahead of him . . . as a veteran Ron could be a steadying influence on the younger Giant pitchers who are looking for a staff leader.

RALPH MICHAEL CALDWELL

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws L. Born January 22, 1949, in Tarboro, N. C. Height 6-0, Weight 185. Married. Lives in Tarboro, N. C.

An unknown lefthander when he was acquired in a trade from San Diego for slugger Willie McCovey in October of 1973, Mike reversed his won-lost total and was pitching at a 20-victory pace as the top winner in the league in mid-May (7-1) when elbow problems curtailed his activities on the mound . . . he pitched just five innings in June and was out for three entire weeks that month . . . win number eight didn't come until July 13 and only in late August did he start pitching in regular turn . . . Manager Wes Westrum used Mike with extra days rest in July and August to allow the elbow time to recover from the strain . . . off season surgery was performed by Los Angeles team surgeon Dr. Frank Jobe in Centinela Valley Community Hospital on October 25th for removal of a traction bone spur in the left elbow . . . a season free of pain is Caldwell's expectation . . . in spite of the injury Mike achieved career highs in almost every department . . . surpassed his win total of the previous two seasons . . . finished 10th in the National League ERA race . . . was the winner of his first eight Candlestick Park decisions and wound up 9-1 at home . . . against Cincinnati Mike was 3-0 with an ERA of 1.73 including his top effort of the year, a 4-0 five-hitter on just 94 pitches over Jack Billingham in Riverfront Stadium on May 14th . . . Mike's other whitewash was at Montreal on May 5th, and he was 3-0 over the Expos with a 1.08 ERA for the year . . . five of Mike's 13 career CGs have been shutouts—against Cincinnati 2, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and Montreal . . . Mike was chosen by San Diego in the 11th round of the June, 1971, draft, yet reached the majors at the end of his first pro season and has been there ever since . . . he played his collegiate ball at North Carolina State University.

JOHN FRANCIS D'ACQUISTO

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born December 24, 1951, in San Diego, California. Height 6-2, Weight 195. Married. Lives in San Diego.

An up and down season, his first full year in the majors, has given John the impetus to become a regular starter in 1975 . . . after winning his first two starts he dropped the next five decisions and was on the brink of being optioned out to Phoenix . . . John's season turned around on May 25th when he relieved against the Dodgers in Candlestick Park and turned in a brilliant eight strikeout, one hit effort in 3.2 innings . . . he went on to win seven of his next nine decisions up to the All Star break . . . had control problems all season, and that is still his main weakness . . . with 12 wins in his rookie year John had more than any Giant freshman since Ruben Gomez won 13 in 1953 . . . his 167 strikeouts were the most by a Giant rookie since 1900 and ranked him 10th in the National League . . . on the other hand 124 walks ranked him below only Philadelphia's Steve Carlton in the NL . . . D'Acquisto was named to the Topps Major League Rookie Team . . . John has a smooth delivery, an excellent fast ball and curve . . . still needs to work on change of pace and finer control . . . his lone shutout was a hard earned 4-hitter in Atlanta Stadium on September 6th . . . John was the Giants' first choice in June, 1970, draft and was signed by scout George Genovese after graduating from San Diego's St. Augustine High School . . . that summer he pitched in the P.A.L. California North-South High School All Star Game in Anaheim Stadium . . . in 1971 and 1972 he led his league in strikeouts and made the All Star team . . . at Phoenix in 1973 he led the Pacific Coast League in starts, complete games, shutouts (4) and innings pitched and included a seven-inning no-hitter . . . in 952 innings of professional baseball he has fanned 954 batters . . . with the ability and excellent attitude and disposition he has all he needs to do is gain more consistency and control to be a big winner . . . hit a homer off Pittsburgh's Larry Demery in Candlestick on June 7th.

FOUR DOUBLEHEADER SHUTOUTS IN SAN FRANCISCO HISTORY

When the Giants blanked Montreal in both ends of a doubleheader last July 21 it marked the fourth time in San Francisco history that such an event took place, and each time it was in Candlestick Park.

Jim Barr pitched a 4-0, 6-hitter over Steve Renko in the first game and rookie John D'Acquisto went eight innings with a one-hitter before Elias Sosa came on to close out the Expos on one hit in the ninth inning for a 2-0 win over Steve Rogers.

The other Giant doubleheader shutouts:

April 29, 1962—vs. Chicago Cubs
Jack Sanford (3 hits) over Glenn Hobbie, 7-0
Billy Pierce (3 hits) over Jack Curtis, 6-0

May 17, 1964—vs. New York Mets
Bob Hendley (3 hits) over Al Jackson, 6-0
Ron Herbel (7 hits) over Jack Fisher, 1-0

June 4, 1967—vs. New York Mets
Joe Gibbon (4 hits) over Bill Denehy, 7-0
Mike McCormick (8 hits) over Chuck Estrada, 5-0

JAMES EDWARD GOODSON

INFIELDER. Bats L. Throws R. Born January 25, 1948 in Pulaski, Va. Height 6-3, Weight 185. Married, two children. Lives in Ivanhoe, Va.

Ed has a reputation as the best pure hitter on the Giant club . . . a natural swing and the ability to make contact and hit the ball where it is pitched make him a .300 hitter when healthy . . . last season he missed about a third of the season because of various muscle injuries, but he hit well when playing regularly . . . played at first base from late May through mid-July, batted fourth most of the time and hit over .300 during that period . . . at first base committed only two errors in 73 games to rank among the leading fielders . . . at All Star break he was at .306, but he fell off some 80 points while suffering from injury the rest of the season . . . a better hitter with runners on base . . . has been injury prone throughout his career . . . in 1973 missed the last six weeks of the season when he broke the right index finger in a collision with catcher Dave Rader while chasing a foul pop in Pittsburgh . . . an NCAA College All American while playing at East Tennessee State University . . . has a B. S. degree in Biology from ETSU . . . was a shortstop there and came to the attention of Giant scouts while playing semi-pro ball in Greenville, Tenn. . . . signed by Hugh Poland . . . was San Francisco's first choice in the June, 1968, Special Phase draft and played shortstop when he entered professional baseball . . . was the California League All Star first baseman in 1970 at Fresno.

EDWARD LOUIS HALICKI

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 4, 1950, in Newark, N. J. Height 6-7, Weight 220. Single. Lives in Phoenix, Arizona.

A lanky righthander who made the major leagues in just two and a half seasons of professional experience . . . Halicki was purchased from Phoenix on July 3 and completed two of 11 starts while having control problems . . . has plenty of stuff and an uncomfortable delivery for righthanded batters . . . pitched better than his won lost record indicates . . . best game was June 29, a complete game victory in the Astrodome . . . lack of offensive support (16 runs in eight defeats) and defensive lapses (10 unearned runs) hurt him . . . last year he started off slowly, a recurring trait, at Phoenix, but completed and won six straight games to earn a shot at the National League . . . in 1973 he made the California League All Star team as an honorable mention by going 14-3 with an ERA of 1.76 from June 1st on . . . signed by scout Buddy Kerr out of Monmouth College in West Long Branch, N. J., where he was also chosen to the small college All American basketball third team in 1971-72 . . . a graduate of Kearny High School in New Jersey and an all-state selection in baseball and basketball.

DAVID ARTHUR KINGMAN

INFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born December 21, 1948, in Pendleton, Oregon. Height 6-6, Weight 210. Single. Lives in Millbrae, Calif.

All the physical tools—power, speed, strong arm—are in Dave's possession . . . has a lot of desire also, but there has been something missing . . . if he could put it all together he would be a super player . . . hit 18 homers in 1974, second best on the club to Bobby Bonds, but never hit well enough for average to merit a regular spot in the lineup . . . his career total of 77 homers figures out to one HR every 17.5 ABs . . . still dogged by numerous strikeouts . . . of the times he put the ball in play he hit a homer every 13 at bats and averaged .347 (768 for 225) . . . played first base mostly last season with some brief action at third . . . a big strong man, Dave possesses the rare combination of great speed and power . . . he's played some outfield and even pitched in two games in 1973 . . . prepped at Mt. Prospect (Ill.) High School and went to Southern California under Coach Rod Dedeaux where he starred, leading the Trojans to the 1970 NCAA Championship . . . drafted by the Giants number one in the June, 1970, Special Phase draft and signed with scout George Genovese . . . reported to Amarillo of the Texas League along with USC teammate Jim Barr that year . . . after playing at Phoenix the next season, Dave was called up along with Barr on July 30, 1971, and helped the Giants win the 1971 Western Division title in the National League . . . broke in with three homers in his first series against Pittsburgh, including a game-winning grand slam for his first major league HR off ace reliever Dave Giusti . . . the next day belted a pair off Dock Ellis to lead a doubleheader sweep that gave the Giants a 9-game lead, their biggest of the season . . . last year he had 10 game-winning hits, second best on the team, and six other go-ahead RBIs . . . his first pinch hit homer, on July 30 at Atlanta off Tom House, tied the game in the ninth inning . . . Dave likes the outdoor life and numbers woodworking, hunting and fishing among his hobbies . . . works with United Airlines in the off season.

GARRY LEE MADDOX

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born September 1, 1949, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Height 6-3, Weight 175. Married, one son. Lives in Redwood Shores, California.

Garry slumped off from a strong 1973 season, dropping in most offensive categories . . . back miseries hampered his effort in the second half of the season . . . at the All Star break he was hitting .306, but the rest of the way he missed games and wasn't able to perform as well as when he was healthy . . . still managed to contribute nine go-ahead RBIs and eight game-winning hits, giving him 31 game deciders in three seasons . . . hit best in the top of the lineup, either first or third, but while he doesn't strike out, he also doesn't have the knack of earning bases on balls . . . with his great speed he has the potential to steal more bases . . . swiped 21 out of 30 last year . . . led the Giants in doubles . . . finished among the leaders in fielding percentage with just five errors in 353 total chances . . . usually a fast finisher, Garry had a poor September batting wise and failed to reach the .300 circle . . . in 1973 he finished third in the National League with a .319 average . . . made the Topps' Major League All Rookie Team in 1972 when he was called up from Phoenix to take over Willie Mays' center field spot after Willie went to the Mets . . . Maddox had 22 RBIs and nine homers, including a pair of grand slams, for Phoenix when his promotion came on April 25, 1972 . . . he was a California League All Star at Fresno and was voted the loop's best outfielder the year before . . . he's the only California League player in history to go 6-for-6 in a game twice . . . signed by scout George Genovese after being the Giants' second choice in the January, 1968, draft . . . between 1968 and 1970 he served a two-year hitch with the U. S. Army in Viet Nam . . . a graduate of San Pedro (Calif.) High School . . . lives in Redwood Shores, Calif., with his wife, Sondra, and their first child, Garry, born last October.

GARY NATHANIEL MATTHEWS

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born July 5, 1950 in San Fernando, California. Height 6-3, Weight 190. Married, one son. Lives in Foster City, Calif.

Gary was the Giants' most consistent and productive hitter in 1974 . . . although his average dropped 13 points from his National League Rookie of the Year campaign of 1973, he increased his output in runs, doubles, home runs and RBIs . . . led the team with 13 game-winning hits, contributed eight go-ahead RBIs and was second on the club in runs scored and batting average . . . Gary was the team leader in hits and RBIs as well as total bases (248) . . . was a better hitter in the middle of the order and was one of the top clutch hitters . . . a bad start in April and a leg injury in June probably cost him a second straight .300 season . . . hit .331 (318-105) over the last three months but fell short of his goal . . . Gary has hit well in all of his six professional seasons . . . last year his outfielding improved tremendously . . . drafted number one by the Giants in the June, 1968, draft and signed by scout George Genovese after graduation from San Fernando (Calif.) High School . . . made the Midwest League All Star Team at Decatur in his first pro season . . . led the Texas League in fielding, doubles and total bases in 1971 and in 1972, just prior to his promotion to the majors he set a club record with 108 RBIs at Phoenix . . . was voted the Phoenix club's MVP, made the Pacific Coast League All Star Team and made a great impression on San Francisco with 14 RBIs and a .290 average in a 20-game September trial . . . won the regular left field job in the third week of the 1973 season and has been there ever since . . . has great physical ability and will continue to improve with experience . . . has speed to become an outstanding base runner and the power and aggressiveness of a slugger and top run producer . . . Gary's wife, Sandra, gave birth to their first child, Gary, Jr., last August.

GIANTS vs. RED SOX IN ANNUAL HALL OF FAME GAME

The San Francisco Giants and Boston Red Sox will play the 1975 Hall of Fame Game at Doubleday Field in Cooperstown, N.Y., on Monday, August 18, at 2 p.m. It will mark the fifth time the Giants have been involved in the Hall of Fame Game, but the first appearance as San Francisco's National League entry.

The Giants were in Cooperstown under Manager Mel Ott in 1944 and 1946, in 1950 under Leo Durocher and the last time in 1956 under Bill Rigney. The 1944 game against the Tigers was rained out, and in the other three contests the Giants downed Detroit twice and lost to Boston.

Hal Schumacher defeated the Tigers, 9-5, in 1946 with Sid Gordon contributing a home run. In 1950 Clint Hartung pitched seven innings and hit a home run, but the Red Sox scored four times in the eighth inning to win, 8-5. The 1956 game was an 11-10 slugfest with relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm winning in the 10th inning. Dusty Rhodes slammed a pair of homers and the Giants had to score twice in the bottom of the tenth for the victory.

STEVEN ROBERT ONTIVEROS

INFIELDER-OUTFIELDER. Bats R & L, Throws R. Born October 26, 1951, in Bakersfield, Cal. Height 6-0, Weight 185. Married. Lives in Bakersfield.

Started the season as the regular first baseman, but his hitting slump in the early going drove him to the bench . . . played off and on at third base and first base . . . contributed with the bat, accounting for six game-winning hits and eight go-ahead RBI . . . hit effectively in the second half of the year as a pinch hitter and fill-in at first and third . . . makes contact with the bat, generally walks as much or more than he strikes out . . . a graduate of Bakersfield High School who was signed by scout Dick Wilson . . . enjoyed an outstanding minor league career with consistently high hitting marks . . . his 1973 season at Phoenix was the capper when Steve was selected as the Sporting News Minor League Player of the Year . . . that year he led the Pacific Coast League with a .357 average, highest mark since 1956, 19 points ahead of runner-up Bill Madlock (now the Cubs' third baseman) . . . he also led the PCL in doubles and triples . . . of Mexican descent, Steve has played in that country's winter league the past few seasons . . . along his way to Candlestick Park he won honors as California League and National Association Class A All Star third baseman in 1971 while playing at Fresno . . . a line drive hitter with solid ability, Steve still needs to find a position to play regularly.

CHARLES PROSEK WILLIAMS

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 11, 1947, in Flushing, N. Y. Height 6-2, Weight 200. Married. Lives in Foster City, Calif.

Charlie pitched his way onto the varsity in spring training last year and spent his first full season in the majors . . . did a quietly effective job both as a spot starter and in relief . . . his 2.79 ERA was second only to Jim Barr among regulars . . . in contrast to 1973 when he was 3-0 with San Francisco but not nearly that effective, last season Charlie's 1-3 record was not indicative of his success . . . a clot in his right shoulder sidelined Williams for the last six weeks of the season and it was feared that surgery would be needed . . . as it turned out medication and rest solved the problem and Charlie should be ready this spring . . . a graduate of Great Neck (N. Y.) High School . . . signed with the New York Mets out of Parsons College in Iowa where he was a teammate of infielder Tom Heintzelman who was acquired by the Giants last October from the St. Louis Cardinals . . . Charlie's first National League win was a decision over Juan Marichal in Candlestick Park on June 2, 1971 . . . less than a year later, on May 11, 1972, he was traded to the Giants in the Willie Mays deal . . . now a year round resident of California with wife Barbara in Foster City.

CHRISTOPHER PAUL ARNOLD

INFIELDER. Bats R. Throws R. Born November 6, 1947, in Long Beach, California. Height 6-0., Weight 175. Married. Lives in Mesa, Arizona.

A three year veteran of the National League with the Giants, Chris comes to spring camp this year as a non-roster player, determined to make the varsity again as a utility man . . . he's been the top pinch hitter the past two seasons and also filled in around the infield as well as behind the plate two years ago . . . was one of the club's best hitters with men on base . . . contributed a pair of go-ahead RBIs as well as a game-winning hit . . . signed out of Arcadia (Calif.) High School by scout George Genovese . . . Arnold spent two years on active duty with the Navy's Submarine Division between 1968 and 1970 . . . a popular member of the team, has solid credentials as a hitter, but has lacked overall range necessary to winning a regular infield job.

ROOKIE RULE

The Baseball Writers Association of America considers a player a rookie unless during the previous season or seasons he has (1) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club during the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

The 25-player limit is in effect from Opening Day through August 31.

Giant players who have seen service in the majors but are still eligible for the Rookie of the Year award are catcher Marc Hill, pitchers Gary Lavelle and John Montefusco and infielder Glenn Redmon.

AMENDED "SAVE" RULE FOR 1975

A pitcher is credited with a Save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not the winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
   a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
   b. He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
   c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.
